

Calling History/Geography/Humanities leaders and those involved with Curriculum Development.

Are you looking for support to develop your local history curriculum and develop your role as a curriculum lead?

Perhaps you're thinking of way to make your curriculum relevant and unique to reflect the heritage of the communities that you serve.

Whether you are a Primary or Secondary teacher, your local history/ heritage should be a significant part of your curriculum and it can be a powerful resource to create a bespoke and engaging curriculum. However, many teachers struggle to find the information, resources and support to do so.

Join us for a FREE TRAINING DAY at Mansfield Museum. (NG18 1NG)

- Learn how to uncover your locality's unique heritage and story.
- Become part of a network of on-going support.
- Receive a free map and photo pack of your school (historic maps and aerial photos from Historic England's archive collection) worth £140.
- Learn how to conduct a heritage trail around your school and uncover your unique hidden heritage and history.
- Access ongoing opportunities to develop your curriculum.
- Find out about local projects that your school can participate in.

We look forward to welcoming you on the Wednesday 27th September 2023 (9:30-16:00). The training is free and all you need to bring is your participation and enthusiasm.

Please reply early, as the map and aerial photo packs take a long time for our archive team to source and print for each school.

Please email: Ismail.Dale@HistoricEngland.org.uk to reserve your place.

A limited amount of funding is available to pay for staff cover if capacity would be a barrier to participation.
